Introduction:

Palliative care is an approach that improves the quality of life of patients and their families facing the problem associated with life-threatening illness, through the prevention and relief of suffering by means of early identification and impeccable assessment and treatment of pain and other problems, physical, psychosocial and spiritual. (WHO 2011)

Palliative care:

- provides relief from pain and other distressing symptoms;
- affirms life and regards dying as a normal process;
- intends neither to hasten or postpone death;
- integrates the psychological and spiritual aspects of patient care;
- offers a support system to help patients live as actively as possible until death;
- offers a support system to help the family cope during the patients' illness and in their own bereavement;
- uses a team approach to address the needs of patients and their families, including bereavement counselling, if indicated;
- will enhance quality of life, and may also positively influence the course of illness;
- is applicable early in the course of illness, in conjunction with other therapies that are intended to prolong life, such as chemotherapy or radiation therapy, and includes those investigations needed to better understand and manage distressing clinical complications.

Palliative medicine and nursing are integral parts of the holistic care rendered to those affected by any incurable disease or chronic debilitating or end stage medical disease, including care of the elderly. Special knowledge and skills are needed to care for and treat these patients because they have special needs.

The modern concept of Palliative Care was pioneered as a movement in the UK by Dame Cecily Saunders, which then spread to many other parts of the world. In India, this is a speciality still in its infancy and most doctors and medical students are not familiar with the principles and practice of this discipline. Much more needs to be done to make palliative care widely and easily available.

This Fellowship programme will help to build capacity of health care professionals and institutions and equip them to render much-needed palliative care services to the people of this country.

The CMAI – IPM, National Fellowship Programme

Aims

- To give training to doctors so that they receive the knowledge and professional skills to render palliative care services.
- To give new insights and perspectives and positively influence their outlook towards the practice of Medicine i.e. from being medicine & doctor centric to person centric and being an equal partner in a team.

Eligibility Criteria

The applicants should hold an MBBS/BDS degree recognized by the Medical Council of India/Dental Council of India and have completed 1-year internship.

Student Intake:

Twenty-Five (25) students will be admitted to the programme every year.

Course Design:

The programme is expected to familiarize the candidates with the philosophy, principles and different models of delivery of palliative care, its relevance in our socio-cultural scenario, issues in communicating with patients and relatives, ethical and legal issues, symptom management, basic nursing issues relevant to people with incurable and chronic illnesses and issues related to death.

The programme is based on a distance education mode of one-year duration. However, students will have the option to complete the programme in two years' time. The methodology will include course work modules, assignments, and theory classes at contact sessions and hands on clinical training.

Academic requirements:

- Candidates should have 100% attendance during the 10 days contact session
- Should complete 20 days clinical postings divided as 10 days at Institute of Palliative Medicine, Kozhikode and 10 days at one of the designated centres with minimum score of 50% in clinical evaluation at each centre. 10 days clinical posting at Institute of Palliative Medicine, Kozhikode is mandatory
- Should maintain logbook during clinical posting with minimum score of 50% in log book evaluation.
- Should complete one clinical audit and secure minimum audit evaluation score of 50%
- Should complete 10 modules as distance education program with minimum score of 50% in the assignment evaluation of each module.
- Should complete final evaluation with minimum score of 50%.

Contact Sessions:

There will be 32 days of contact sessions for the training. This is mandatory for the completion of the course. First ten days of the orientation programme will be conducted via Zoom platform. Thereafter, the candidate must complete twenty clinical working days. It is mandatory to do 10 days clinical posting at Institute of Palliative Medicine, Kozhikode. The remaining 10 days can be done in any one of the designated centres. The candidate is free to choose the centre and the period after discussing with the faculty concerned (A list of recognized institutions for clinical placement and the faculty in charge are given at Page 7 to 11). The last two contact days, for the examination days will be conducted at IPM, Kerala.

Distance-learning modules:

There will be 10 distance learning modules. Each learning module is based on topics specific to palliative medicine. Along with each module(s), one or two sets of assignment will be provided which the candidate must complete. The assignments will be evaluated and the marks will be informed to the candidates. The aggregate of all the assignment marks will be included in the final evaluation and certification.

Clinical Postings:

The candidate will be evaluated during the clinical placement by the faculty in charge (mentor). He/she must complete a logbook during the clinical placement. The format for the evaluation during the clinical placement and the logbook will be mailed / couriered to the candidate during the first contact session.

Audit:

The candidate must submit a duly completed audit report on a topic relevant to palliative care. Audit proposals will be discussed and finalized during the initial contact session.

Final examination:

The final evaluation will be carried out at IPM, Kozhikode. The evaluation includes theory examination, practical examination, viva, audit presentation and case presentation.

Final Evaluation:

Final evaluation will be a Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) system of evaluation based on the evaluation of the assignments, logbook and the audit report, performance during the clinical placement and the final examination. The details of the audit and final examination can be clarified at the time of first contact session at IPM.

Split up of evaluation:

Assignments	-	30%
Clinical Posting	-	20%
Log Book	-	15%
Audit	-	10%
Final evaluation	-	25%

If the candidate is unable to score 50% in each of the category as shown in the split up, he/she will not be declared pass and can appear next time. In that case, the date of examination will be intimated to the candidate. He/she can appear directly for the examination without any additional fees.

The candidate will be allowed to carry forward the course fee for one year with the same registration fee.

About Institute of Palliative Medicine (IPM)

The Institute of Palliative Medicine is the Training and Research arm of Pain and Palliative Care Society (PPCS), which is one of the leading training institutions for palliative care in low and middle-income countries. It is a World Health Organisation Collaborating Centre (WHOCC) for Community Participation in Palliative Care and Long-term care and is the first WHOCC in palliative care outside the developed countries. IPM is also the nodal agency for initiating and implementing community-based palliative care programme for various Government agencies including under National Health Mission (Kerala), Departments of Local Self Government and Social Welfare of the Government of Kerala.

The organization has pioneered the community owned palliative care programmes in the region and has established Neighbourhood Network in Palliative Care (NNPC) consisting of a supportive network of professionals, services and volunteers for supporting chronically ill people.

Last few years, Institute of Palliative Medicine has started expanding its activities outside Kerala – both at national and international levels, trying to replicate the Kerala Model in Palliative Care.

IPM is the leading training centre for training in Palliative Care in Asia and has been running regular training and education programmes for more than two decades for healthcare professionals and volunteers. The courses for doctors and nurses are regularly attended by professionals from within the country and abroad.

Courses provide by IPM include-

For Health Care Professionals:

- One-year National Fellowship program in Palliative Medicine and Nursing (in collaboration with Christian Medical Association of India) NFPM and NFPN
- Six-week Basic Certificate Course in Palliative Medicine (for MBBS/BDS doctors)
- Six-week Basic Certificate Course in Palliative Nursing (for B. Sc/Diploma holders in nursing)
- Certificate Course in Essentials of Palliative Medicine (in collaboration with the Indian Association of Palliative Care)
- Foundation course in palliative care (for doctors)

Community volunteers:

- Basic Training in Palliative Care
- Train the Trainer Programme

For Program Managers:

- Fellowship in Palliative Care

About Christian Medical Association of India (CMAI)

The Christian Medical Association of India is a network of 330 healthcare institutions and over 6000 healthcare professionals across the country. CMAI has pioneered work in the areas of Family planning, T.B., Malaria, and HIV/AIDS, and has made significant contributions to the health and medical education in the country.

In Nursing, two of the three statutory, All-India Nursing Examination Boards, (started in the early 1900's), recognised by the Indian Nursing Council are CMAI affiliated. In addition, 50 nursing schools from which over 1000 students graduate every year are accredited by CMAI. In Allied Health education, CMAI accredits high quality training in over 40 centres. It also offers a 3-year postgraduate Fellowship programme in Family Practice recognised by the Tribhuvan University, Nepal. CMAI also conducts regular training programmes and workshops as continuing education and is continuously involved in evolving standards and guidelines for healthcare delivery. CMAI's institutional membership includes several medical colleges including the Christian Medical Colleges at Vellore and Ludhiana, tertiary and secondary care hospitals, and outstanding rural health and development programmes in all parts of the country.

CMAI has been involved in the area of Palliative Care since the early nineties. It has held series of workshops, supported by institutional visits, structured capacity building and an active mentoring process. This has resulted in various centres in Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh and Tamil Nadu starting palliative care services, including the pioneering home care programme at the Bangalore Baptist Hospital in collaboration with the Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Centre, USA. CMAI's focus is now on building and developing professionals in palliative care, by leveraging the strengths of its member institutions and affiliates both at national and international levels.
